

AI That Knows Your Business

A practical, plain-English class for small business owners. No technical background required. Learn how AI can work with your real emails, documents, FAQs, notes, spreadsheets, and customer questions — beyond generic prompts or marketing copy.

Bring one annoying, repetitive business task. Take away a solution.

Leave with a better sense of whether AI can help — and what information it would need from your business.

Generic AI	Business-Powered AI
Works from vague prompts, not your real materials	Built on your own FAQs, policies, and past emails
Produces one-off, generic-sounding answers	Uses a private knowledge base instead of one-off prompts
Does not remember your services, prices, or policies	Sounds like your business, not generic AI text
Hard to trust with real customer conversations	Supports more accurate, consistent customer responses

- How to turn FAQs, policies, price lists, notes, manuals, and customer questions into a searchable AI knowledge base using NotebookLM
- How to use Claude Projects to organize your business context, examples, tone, and repeatable tasks
- How AI coworker-style workflows using Claude or GPT-based tools can help with follow-up emails, simple reports, organizing notes, and recurring office tasks
- How to decide where AI makes sense for your business — and where it probably does not

Free class for small business owners.

Scan to register:

Date: July 1, 2026

Time: 3 PM - 4 PM ET

Host: IG Management Group

Register at: igmanagementgroup.org/ai-class

